

Building Employment Capacity in Autism Spectrum Disorder: Towards a Canadian Network

Dr. David Nicholas (University of Calgary, Vocational Abilities Innovations Lab) is currently seeking participants to take part in a focus group for a study aiming to address employment outcomes for individuals with autism spectrum disorder, with a focus on gender and other social determinants of health. Participants may include self-advocates, family members, and/or professionals serving the ASD-population. The group will last approximately 90 minutes and will be audio recorded as part of the study. Your decision to participate or not will have no bearing on services you receive. If you are interested in participating, the meeting details are as follows:

When: March 14th 2017 - Two times available:
Afternoon session: 1pm / Evening session: 7pm*

Where: Autism Calgary, 3639 26 Street NE

*If unable to make either the afternoon or evening session please contact Jesse to discuss the possibility of a phone interview

If you would like more information on the study, you can call Jesse Orjasaeter at 780-566-4251. You can also email jesse.orjasaeter@ucalgary.ca

*This study has been approved by the Conjoint Faculties Research Ethics Board of the University of Calgary

Social Sciences and Humanities
Research Council of Canada
Conseil de recherches en sciences humaines du Canada

Canada

UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY

